

I believe we Americans have the right to have peace and quite at our homes in the evening after working a long hard day. If I need some information, I will call these people. I do not want them calling me and never taking "NO" for an answer.